Reasons to book a Bed and Breakfast Exeter by Mary Porter

Article published on June 29th 2012 | Travel

Enjoy a short break in Devon and there are a number of Hotels in Exeter that might catch your eye but would you consider staying in a Bed and Breakfast Exeter instead? Given the choice, why might you choose a Bed and Breakfast Exeter over hotel accommodation?

There are number of reasons why a Bed and Breakfast Exeter makes a great deal of sense let's examine a few of them in closer detail.

Price

Consider the cost of a Bed and Breakfast Exeter in direct comparison to a corporate hotel. The price is significantly cheaper for a Bed and Breakfast Exeter you can pay a premium for a top quality hotel. If you want to save money whilst staying in the area a Bed and Breakfast Exeter is a brilliant alternative. The price might be lower in a Bed and Breakfast Exeter but that doesn't mean to say the standard of service is any less.

Character

Stay in some Hotels in Exeter and as nice as they might be, they lack a certain amount of charm. Hotels are often sterile, you feel like you a mere number when you book a room but it's different with a Bed and Breakfast Exeter. A Bed and Breakfast Exeter is cosier, you feel more at home at a B&B and the property has its own distinctive character. The service is often friendlier at a Bed and Breakfast Exeter and quite often you feel more relaxed in this type of accommodation.

Dining

Sit down to a meal at a Bed and Breakfast Exeter and you are treated to the finest of home cooking. There's something special about a good old fashioned full English breakfast at a Bed and Breakfast Exeter that you just don't get in Hotels in Exeter.

Apart from the generous portions the quality of the produce is of a high standard in a Bed and Breakfast Exeter. Sit down to a scrummy breakfast and it'll set you up for the day, a Bed and Breakfast Exeter certainly knows how to keep their guests happy.

If you want value for money accommodation, great food and the finest in customer service make a Bed and Breakfast Exeter your number one choice when you stay in this historic city.
