Spectacular Summer Holidays at La Manga Club by Michael Reilly

Article published on May 29th 2012 | Travel

Summer is rapidly approaching, the weather is warming and the sun is shining, it's around this time we start planning the family vacation. Somewhere warm, somewhere near the sea, somewhere to relax and somewhere to just have fun and La Manga Club in Spain is a firm favourite.

Located on the South East of Spain in a city called Murcia is the La Manga Club with sporting and leisure facilities, three golf courses, twenty eight tennis centres and a football centre, just what you need for a fantastic holiday.

The La Manga Club offers superior apartments, townhouses and villas for your enjoyment relax on your patio and sip a refreshing cocktail as the sun sets or head to the fitness centre for a quick workout before diving in the swimming pool and having a barbeque with the family.

Murcia is a Beautiful City

Murcia is a beautiful city with hills and mountains for outdoor lovers to explore and then there are the sandy beaches for a day's fun for everyone with the lapping waves offering a sense of serenity. La Manga Club is one of the areas that have a wonderful warm climate, just what you need after the winter chill and has approximately three hundred days of sunshine each year, so you can go anytime of the year; it's not just for the summer holidays.

For those who want to soak up some history and culture there are some fantastic attractions including the old and spectacular Cathedral of Murcia, the Santa Clara monastery and the Salzillo Museum. Take a leisurely stroll in El Valle Regional Park and sit and have a picnic in the sun for something different to do today before heading off to enjoy some international cuisine at one of the many superior restaurants in the area.

The La Manga Club offers you everything you need and you really don't need to leave once you arrive, but for a day's outing you can explore the shops and streets of Murcia and see what the area has to offer in between trips to the beach and hikes up the mountains.

Picturesque Scenery

This area of Spain is very popular among many tourists, this could be due to its picturesque scenery or its offer of fantastic outdoor activities for all ages. The children will love building sand castles on the beach and body surfing in the waves while you can lie back and relax with a good book and soak up the sun, being the envy of all your friends on your return.

The biggest advantage of all is it is such a short flight from the UK, your holiday can begin the minute you step on the plane and you can arrive in Spain all refreshed and ready to tackle your summer vacation head on.
