There are not many cities in the world which play host to such a versatile number of attractions as does Edinburgh. The capital city of Scotland has everything ranging from historical castles to world class museums, from famous art galleries to an array of fun-packed festivals, from mesmerizing landscapes to welcoming citizens, and above all the moderate weather which helps Edinburgh to live up to its fame of being considered as tourists'™ heaven irrespective of the season. There are many sites worth seeing in the city but no visit to Edinburgh can be complete without a trip to the top of Arthur'™s Seat in Holy rood Park.

Edinburgh hotels are second only to London in the United Kingdom in terms of value and availability. There is also a wide range of Castle Apartments Edinburgh, which are highly economical and comfortable at the same time.

Arthur'™s Seat is the name given to the peak of an extinct volcano among a group of four hills situated behind the palace of Holy rood House. The peak can be seen from almost every part of the city and rises to a height of 251 meters with a circumference of about 5 Kilometers in the Holy rood park area. For those interested in history, remains of a fort covering about 20 acres of area can also be seen on peak of Arthur's Seat. Archaeologists suggest that the fort belonged to pre-Roman times and dates back to approximately 2000 years.

There are different routes accessible from many directions, which lead to Arthur'™s Seat and it can take about 2 hours to reach there on foot from the palace. The walk to the top of Arthur'™s Seat is easy and reveals the spectacular panoramic views of Edinburgh with every step taken. The picturesque views from the top of the hill are breath-taking; one can see all of Edinburgh and most parts of East Lothian and Midlothian. It is recommended to visit Arthur'™s Seat on a calm sunny day, because it gets windy on the top and there are some steep part son the way up. It is a great place for a family day out however clothes and shoes should be selected keeping in mind the walk on the hills.
