Article published on January 4th 2012 | Travel

How often do you say that there is no fun and adventure in your life? That it is all work and no play, and life is so dull. Well my friend, life is what you make it. And if you want fun and adventures then you would have to go and find it? And where would you find adventure and fun? They are certainly not made in factories and sold in stores. But there are places where you can have the time of your life. If I were you then I would head to Denia, a city located in Spain. Every year thousands of tourists go there for vacation. It is time you were a visitor there too.

The first must go place in Denia would be the beach. The beach is about 20 km long. So no matter how many people go there, it will never be too crowded. There are numerous bars and restaurants on the beach that will provide you with refreshments.

If you are a golf fan, then you can visit the golf course. Two of the most popular golf course here are the La Sella and the Oliva Novagolf course. The La Sella is located in the Marriot hotel where as the Oliva Nova is an independent golf course that was designed by Seve Ballesteros, a famous golfer from Spain. These are not the only golf courses. There are others ones in and around Denia.

If you wish to know the history of this wonderful place then you would have to visit the old part of the city. And located in the heart of the old town is the Denia castle, which is one of the historical monuments of the city. This once upon a castle is now an archaeological museum. The museum is the source of information on history of Denia. This is one place you simply cannot miss, no matter how poorly you have done in history in school.

If you are looking for something completely different then I would suggest that you visit the Denia toy museum. This is one museum that is completely dedicated to toys. Here you would find both metal and wooden toys. Here it should be mentioned that Denia is well known for her production of top notch quality wooden toys. You can take some of them back home as souvenirs and gifts for friends.

Last but not the least, those who are fond of shopping will not be disappointed. The city has a large number of stores where you would find the things you like.

Now that you know quite a bit about this superb Spanish city, do not waste your time pondering. Go for the fun and adventure that is waiting for you. Trust me, it would be worth it.
