Serena and Paul will be on their much awaited holiday package Italy tours next week. They have taken the package from Right Travel the renowned travel organizers. The itinerary is complete to the minutest details. Theyâ€™ll leave US on the Saturday and need not carry any food or drinks. Meals, all drinks will be provided in the flight. There will be arrangement for some entertainment as well.

On Sunday when they reach Venice they will have a pickup and drop to the hotel from the airport. Though they have to shell out an additional $54 for that they found it to be more convenient. They would relax and idle away the day adjusting to the change in the time zone while enjoying the morning sun.

Depending on how they feel they have the option to enjoy leisure at the hotel or may take the Italy tour on feet. Most likely theyâ€™ll be alright and will opt for the tour of the city of Venice. In that case they have to reach the St. Markâ€™s Square which is considered as the historical nucleus of Venice. Theyâ€™ll then route through the Golden Basilica of San Marco. They have heard that this edifice has stunning interiors, extravagant mosaics and a perfect blend of Oriental and Occidental design.

On Tuesday they will again have the option of enjoying themselves at the hotel spa or work it out at the gym or take the tour to the different Islands of the city of Venice. This tour is called the Gondola Serenade. That evening they will be enjoying one of the peak attractions of the Italy Tours and that is the very famous Gondola ride along with music by the side of the Grand Canal. This magical evening they will live a piece of the glory of Venetian history.

On Wednesday theyâ€™ll visit the exotic island of Murano. Theyâ€™ll spend the day amidst of the amazing natural beauty of the lagoon. Known for its glass factories, Murano has several glass blowing units. Theyâ€™ll visit those to get a real experience of this charming art form. Visit to the local church, going on a shopping spree are some other agendas featuring on their wish list for the day.

On Thursday theyâ€™ll be dropped to the airport by the transport facility but Serena and Paul does not want to think of that moment as of now, they are extremely excited and looking forward to their Italy Tours.
