Unique Holiday Experiences that South India Tourism Offers by Peter Jason

Article published on April 9th 2012 | Travel

South India is an inimitable mix of rich culture and natural beauty that can captivate every person who visits this region. Whether a person visits Kerala, Tamil Nadu or Karnataka; each of these states is filled with innumerable destinations waiting to give travelers a thrilling experience. Below we have discussed a few such locations that will leave you spellbound.

Refreshing Hill stations: If you are fond of the peace and calmness that the natural beauty of hill stations offer then a south India tour is just apt to match your taste. Hill stations like Munnar and Ooty are two of the most famous destinations for people who love to soak in natural bliss and enjoy the soothing climate.

Standing at the Top station in Munnar would give you a breathtaking view of the Western Ghats laden with greenery and covered with white clouds, giving you an experience you will not find elsewhere. Munnar tour is incomplete without a visit to the Eravikulam national park which is home to the Nilgiri Tahr and the dense sandalwood forests. Ooty is yet another picturesque hill station situated in the state of Tamil Nadu. The rose garden here has around 20,000 different species of roses in innumerable hues, spread across 4 hectares of land. Manmade marvels are rare in hill stations where nature provides ample visual treat but Ooty tourism is known for one such marvel which is its thread garden. Built in a span of almost 12 years the thread garden is a result of hundreds of embroidery artists who came together and worked collectively to make a garden full of flowers made out of thread.

Pristine backwaters: The backwaters of Kerala cannot be missed at any cost in a South India tour. The feeling of living amidst a moving residence equipped with luxury and the peace and tranquility you always wanted can be best experienced in Kerala's backwaters. The floating Houseboats, view of tall coconut trees and fishermen fishing around make for perfect holidays. Alleppey tourism is a perfect blend of the backwaters and ayurvedic therapies that will refresh your mind, body and soul. You can indulge yourself in centuries old massages and treatments of ayurveda science and give your body the pampering it always longed for. No doubt a Kerala honeymoon is on the minds of numerous

The lively cities: South India apart from being naturally rich, the cities of this region are technologically advanced and have entertaining nightlife too. Bangalore tourism will welcome you with its clean gardens, architectural wonders and entertainment options that will give the taste of the urban nightlife.

South India is home to multiple experiences travelers would love to explore. Wildlife, hill stations, backwaters; the region is a kaleidoscope of many more such options. We have given you many reasons to take a south India tour, so begin planning one right away.
