Guwahati is a well-known city in the north eastern region of India. It is also referred to as the gateway to India as it is connected to 3 highways. The Brahmaputra River beautifies the city by flowing through it. This river divides the city into its northern and southern hemispheres. The climate is cozy and comfortable throughout the year because of the river and the mountains located inside the city. It is also the hotspot of many industries. Tourists visit Guwahati frequently as it is an ideal place to visit for a short holiday with its green environment and wonderful climate.

Kolkata is also known as the city of joy. The people here are happy despite the tough conditions that they have had to overcome through their life span. Initially, it was declared by the British as the British capital of India. The British made it an important sea port and the capital of trade and commerce of India. The East India Company was also opened in Kolkata, which was formerly known as Calcutta. It had the richest diversity of people from different regions and cultures as it was a center of education and politics and it continues to be so till the present day. The tropical climate is another positive aspect of the city. Though Kolkata has adequate train and bus connections to many other cities, the most convenient way is to travel by flight. The tickets are cheap and easily available as there are many flights that run to and from the Kolkata airport located in a place called Dumdum.

Various new airline companies have recently launched flight services from Guwahati to Kolkata. The best thing advantage is that, they are really cheap and easily available. Common people can afford them easily. Therefore, flight services are not only restricted to the rich people of the society. These flights run daily and if you book tickets at a prior date, you will get them at a very cheap rate.

In case of online booking of tickets, you need to possess a credit or debit card. They might even give you special discounts through your credit card company. Buying many tickets at the same time also saves a lot of money. If you are planning a trip with your family, you can enjoy the holiday offers and group packages. It is needless to say that travelling by flights is very much comfortable.
