Holiday to Singapore: 5 interesting places you must visit by Ajay Kumar

Article published on January 27th 2012 | Vacations

Singapore's reputation is as high as some of the tall structures and giant skyscrapers the country boasts of. When you land on this island-country which is nestled warmly amidst the blue oceans, you will be surprised to find so much liveliness and beauty peppered in this place. A holiday to Singapore will do your spirits more good than anything else and while the delights are too many to count, here are some that we have hand-picked:

i. Tanjong Beach at Sentosa: Sentosa Island boasts of many beautiful spots and some of the most exotic beaches of the world. But in terms of solitude and serenity, the quieter and relatively secluded Tanjong Beach is unmatched. It is breezy, watery, photogenic and makes for a lovely stroll with your loved one. Your cameras will go crazy in this enamoring place.

ii. Henderson Waves: While visiting the country under the tour package for Singapore, you must visit the famous Henderson Waves, the country's highest bridge for pedestrians. Its unique wave-like design is a big draw amongst tourists and never fails to win hearts. Excellent for photography as well!

iii. Marina Barrage: If you are looking for a hypnotizing background and eyeball grabbing skyline, then Marina Barrage is the place to be at. The country's 15th reservoir, it offers excellent dating spots and is a perfect dream paradise for lovers. Then there is the famous Singapore Flyer, the giant merry-go-round that will make your heart leap out of your mouth.

iv. Jurong Bird Park: Asia's largest bird park is one of the biggest draws for nature and wildlife lovers. Your tour package in Singapore will drop you straight into this park that boasts of over 600 varying species of birds. Then there are shows, parrot circus and food courts to keep your taste buds happy.

v. Keppel Bay: If you are an adventure freak then Keppel Bay is a heaven for you. If you love to lazily sail through yachts or sip coffees sitting by the seaside, then the exclusive tour package for Singapore offers you visit to Keppel Bay, an ideal urban aquatic place filled with recreational activities.

A tour package to Singapore is much loved for the scenic beauty and natural delights as much as for the man-made monuments & wonders. Tour package in Singapore is also preferred for exotic shopping opportunities which are immense in this country seeped in traditional shops, antique stores and gigantic retail malls. A holiday to Singapore can be a really romantic affair!
