Stay ahead of competition with a smart and effective marketing solution in London by Smithgorge

Article published on January 6th 2012 | Web Design

Many HR magazines speak in length about the interview skills. How you should arrange your resume to make the most impact. What kind of dressing, what kind of body language, what kind of communication your prospective employer is looking from you. It is said that the people at the board take just the first 10 seconds to decide whether to employ you or not. The way you dress, greet the interviewers, your body language. This 10 seconds is called the Moment of Truth. The HR experts are of the opinion that if you are formally dressed, make firm handshake, maintain eye contact while speaking, have a confident body language, chances are that you make a positive impression on the board. That too in just 10 seconds! As it is said you do not get a second chance to make the first impression. So, you have to grab that opportunity to make the most positive first impression. If you are clueless as to how to dress and conduct yourself what should you do? Put your best foot forward of course! Get an expert to groom you for the Day! What is true for a jobseeker is no less true for your company website too! In this gung ho world you have to market yourself, and market yourself well.
