Marriage is such a wonderful event in the lives of loves ones. This is the date which they were waiting for ever since they fell in love with each other. Being a onetime event, wedding function is like a dream come true. No doubt, everybody would like to cheer up in this blissful event and want the affair to be grand and memorable. How about carrying out this nuptial at an outdoor venue?

Venue is the chief element of every function. If one selects outdoor site for the episode to take place then there is no more innovative and unique idea than this.

Moreover, no other place can provide same beauty and pleasure as open-air spot.

It is quite easy to décor this natural panorama, as the natural site does not require much of the artificial décor. Simple and plain flora can also do great jobs as lavishing flowers in the banquet halls. If a lawn has been decided as the site for ceremony then one can make its entrance by making a canopy of flowers. Place small bouquets on either side of the gate.

For those who have selected a beach side as a wedding site, are advised to perform the ceremony at the full moon night. The reflection of moonlight from the sea water will add a beauty to the adornment of the place. One can set lightings around the trees and hang small lanterns on the trees. Light up candles and also place candles on the dinner tables.

Do not leave the chairs undecorated. Though, this part does not need vast deals of consideration it will be still attractive if the seats are adorned. No need to put too much of effort on it. Just a big bow of ribbon at the back of every chair will do great.

Set aisle runners. However, place this according to the weather of the day. Do not use aisle runner on rainy day as it would create a problem for the heels to get stuck in wet grasses or sand. Nevertheless, one can use heavy walkway runner to avoid the former intricacy.

Or else, use rose petals instead of aisle runners but not at windy day. Petals will not be able to stay there for long time on breezy day so, contrary to beautification; this will create a bumpy scene at the function.

Select the type of decoration according to the venue and wedding theme. An individual can seek help regarding this from wedding planner. Indian wedding planners are expertise in arranging all sorts of marriage type functions. Be it indoor or outside event. Wedding planners in India are expert in decorating the entire venue effortlessly and that too within granted time.
