Wedding plays an indispensable as well as the most beautiful piece in one's life. The excitement is not just for the wedding couples but for their friends and relatives as well. Hardly, there could be any such occasion which can involve so much of exhilaration and glee. This is the reason why it is exceedingly important for such event to be a remarkable and memorable one. But how? This is the question that might have arisen in one's mind while planning a wedding. Well, there is no need to worry. The first step towards plotting a wedding ceremony is to choose a pertinent and unique Wedding Theme. These wedding themes are basically the core of the whole celebration elements.

Wedding themes impart the gleaming ideas regarding decoration, arrangement and the accessories required for the same. Many such themes include romance, monsoon, traditional theme like south Indian, Bengali, Punjabi etc, Arabic theme and many more. For romantic theme one can decorate the entire site with red color scheme and their respective suitable lights. Most of the time red lights are chosen along with red roses so as to plant romantic wedding ceremony. The stage can be adorned with petals of red roses on the floor and heart shaped center seating for bride and groom.

For those who want to go with monsoon theme of wedding should plan an indoor location for the rituals. They can embellish the venue with yellow flowers with off white stage and sitting arrangements. This premise entails less of the decoration work representing the presence of monsoon.

Indian traditional wedding theme is the most common premise these days. People are willing to follow customs of their native place. In these suits one should pursue decoration according to their land representing elements. For instance in South India leaves of banana trees, and white and yellow flowers are known as the most auspicious thing for any formal procedure. However, in Punjab, the venue, especially stage and mandapas are to be decorated with red clothes on which stunning and glowing embroidery works are done. Immense bunches of Flowers are another most wanted decorative element for Punjabi wedding.

Arabic wedding proposal also does a miracle in marriage rites these days. Those who are in support of this theme can go with the combination of gold and black; gold and green or red, golden and silver color set-up. This wedding bid is generally proposed under a white tent along with yellow center light. To give it a complete Arab look people can also arrange hukkas at the corners of the tent.

These amazing themes are, basically, flourished by the wedding planner. For these themes to be successful one must appoint a wedding planner.
