

Article published on January 4th 2012 | Weddings

Flowers have always been admired for its beauty and fragrances. They have always been traditionally used for decorations. Flowers are an essential part of any wedding decoration and decorating the wedding halls with the flowers are considered to be auspicious and bring good luck to the couple. There are number of ways to arrange the flowers to compliment the ceremony hall. No, matters how you choose to arrange them they always look nice and give beauty to the site, but the perfect way of decoration add the romance to the wedding.

Ideas for Wedding Flowers Decoration

Bouquets

Bouquets of flowers are traditionally carried by the bride and bridesmaids. There are different ways of arranging the wedding bouquets to give it the best look such as arranging them in round shape and in composite.

Flowers can be simply arranged in the round or globe shape to get the round wedding bouquets. This type of arrangement of bouquets is mostly preferred by the brides, as it looks sweet and neat. The round shape bouquets are versatile, as it can be achieve by arranging any sorts of flowers in a round shape. It is graceful and suits all the formal and informal occasions.

Composite wedding bouquets look like a large flower, which can be created by arranging number of different flowers together forming the shape of a single large flower. The composite bouquets are usually created with the aim of achieving a distinctive appearance.

Centerpieces

Often, tables are used as a centerpiece for wedding reception. It can be decorated in amazing ways, rather than just by placing the bouquet of flowers. If the reception is at evening, you can use number of candles for the centerpiece. To give an extra look surrounds the candles with the flower petals molded in wax. You can also place the candles in a try with the dried flower petals. While decorating, try to use the white flowers, as it gives an impression of new beginning and the purity.

Decorating Pews

Pews decoration gives extra beauty and meaning to the wedding hall. It is natural that first two to three pews are for friends and family member. So, decorating them with special flowers could display your thanks towards them.

Decorating Entrance

Entrance of the venue can be decorated with bunches of white and purple lilies. In addition to this, the bouquets of red roses can be used along the two side of entrance hall. The pavilion can also be decorated with the chains of marigolds and jasmine.

Decorating the couple room

The red roses are being traditional used for decorating the couple room, as it shows the love between them. The red rose petals can be spread over the bed and over the grounds to give a romantic look to the couple room.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/weddings-articles/modern-tips-for-wedding-flowers-decoration.htm> - Article Side

Aman Kumar - About Author:

This article is posted by behalf of a event planners and a wedding planners in India who provides a wedding flowers decorations for wedding and event planning.

Article Keywords:

wedding flowers decorations, event planners, wedding planners in India, wedding decorators, wedding themes

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!