

Article Side

Aashirwad – the Indian Restaurant in Orlando By Pinto Dicosta

Article published on July 7th 2012 | Wine

While you can visit any of the Indian restaurants in Orlando, there are only a few Indian restaurants that will give you the ultimate and authentic taste of India. One of the most authentic yet the trendiest restaurants that you can experience in Orlando is the Aashirwad. While you may get a little confused about finding the right kind of Indian food in most of the other Indian restaurants Aashirwad helps you to choose and taste the eclectic and exotic Indian cuisine with ease.

The restaurant not only provides the authentic taste but the chefs also improvise on the regular menu and make some delectable dishes that are must-try. One of the very popular dishes of this restaurant happens to be the butter chicken cream sauce. This is a dish that will have a lingering effect on the mouth. Apart from this one some of the other popular dishes on Aashirwad restaurant include Colombi Shrimp, Gobi Manchurian, Paneer Tikka, Malai Kofta, Panner Lababdar, Nargisi Aloo, Paneer Makhani, Lamb Chops, Tandoori Salmon, Chicken Vindaloo, Chicken Chettinad, Chicken Tikka Masala and many more.

The Indian Restaurant offers cuisine in different segments that include appetizers, vegetarian dishes, Tandoor items, Chicken preparations, lamb preparations, rice specialties, seafood delicacies, breads, desserts, beverages and a nice collection of wines. While Indian cuisines always boast on the preparation of rice, Aashirwad has maintained the tradition and offers a great range of rice specialties.

Some of the rice specialties on Aashirwad include vegetable biryani that is prepared with an assortment of fresh vegetables cooked along with basmati rice and spices, Chicken biryani where you get to taste succulent boneless breast pieces of chicken along with the fragrant basmati rice and aroma spices, Lamb biryani which is served in combination of basmati rice and boneless lamb pieces cooked in aroma spices. Apart from these the restaurant also offers vegetable fried rice and shrimp biryani. While you order for shrimp biryani in Aashirwad, you will be served with the delicious tiger prawns cooked along with basmati rice and other assorted spices. The vegetable fried rice cooked with different kinds of vegetables, onion, garlic and ginger in basmati rice.

At Aashirwad, you get to experience some of the most authentic desserts you can find in Orlando. Some of the delicacies of desserts include mango ice cream, pistachio kulfi, kheer, gulab jamun and ras malai. While having some of the most mouth watering dishes of Indian cuisine you cannot really think about the calorie intake. However, experiencing these eclectic dishes can definitely sooth your senses and well as the gastronomical desire. So give way to your taste buds to experience some of the most delightful cuisines in the world.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/wine-articles/aashirwad-the-indian-restaurant-in-orlando.htm> - Article Side

Pinto Dicosta - About Author:

Doris Richards has been writing as an a Indian food columnist in various magazines. Recently she has taken an in depth view on the Indian cuisine around the world.

Article Keywords:

Indian Food, Indian Restaurant, Indian Cuisine, Indian Rice Pudding, Appetizers, Beverages,

Chicken

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!