Article published on February 5th 2012 | Business

Since its inauguration, WordPress has long been accepted as a durable platform for blogs. Its reliability in addition to its credibility and versatility has gone a long way to establishing it as one of today's best platforms for basing your online business interests on. WordPress presents users with a simple option for transforming a normal everyday site into a completely functional modernized one with a fun CMS to boot. Because of the ease of use of the WordPress content management system, many designers, many web designers have decided to begin crafting a variety of decidedly useful, decidedly professional themes for a variety of business purposes. In the next few paragraphs, however, we are going to concentrate on a script for a classifieds site. The Classifieds Theme for WordPress, constructed by PremiumPress is considered to be one of the best, if not the best of classified themes for WordPress, and is so essentially as a result of its simple to utilize functionality as well as features. So if you're interested in building your own classified sites, this is the plugin for you. And considering the low price, the script is readily available to everyone.

Done are the times when you'd have needed vast amounts of money to found your very own business venture; with WordPress around, you can do this on peanuts! What is more, its low cost makes it inviting for reasons beyond its quality, it also renders it attractive because website builders can utilize this plugin instead of investing in a far more expensive classifieds plugin because of the low risk it poses in financial terms. Many of the wide-ranging WordPress plugins available on the marketplace are becoming increasingly popular in large part due to the nature of the designs, their performance, their good looks, and their overall professionalism in both the front and back-end. The Classifieds-plugin is symbolic of the aforementioned qualities. But it does not end there: installation is quick, coding is not needed. You can choose from over 10 theme designs which are very customizable. The theme offers support for affiliates. It's SEO friendly. It supports Google Maps. It also supports a wide range of payment gateways. To get that premium look for your classifieds site, all you need to do is simply choose from any one of the 10 available templates. Add your content, add your images, and in seconds your site is ready to go.

PremiumPress also includes an order function which can track all incoming as well as outgoing orders. It also comprises a callback function, that will update customer information automatically once the payment was received. Making payments are made easy as it supports a multitude of well-known payment transactors which ensure that all payments are safe and secure. The script has an SEO customization feature that enables your site to be indexed with ease into a large number of popular search-engines on the internet. So essentially, providing your SEO is done well, you will have no need whatsoever to make extra payments to advertise your website using expensive solutions like Adwords and other promotion programs alike. In geographical terms, finding locations are made much much simpler as a consequence of the integration of Google Maps. Google Maps will assist people to get directions based on their present location. With the use of the Classifieds theme making income is a breeze, not too hard at all. Each plugin, will include tools for affiliates; tools that are easy to use; tools that will allow you to take your site to a different level.
