World of Warcraft, launched by Blizzard in 2004, created a new myth in the online games market. After this, global game manufacturers have introduced their new masterpiece online games, with the intention in the industry to act as a "World of Warcraft killer". Although these works ultimately did not become a killer game, in one respect they were recognized by the players. So far, the only game which can be comparable with the World of Warcraft may be EVE OL..... So, we have inventoried eight masterpieces online to players which claim to be able to beat World of Warcraft.

EVE OL

As a science fiction theme game, EVE OL has been got the industry's praise by virtue of large scenes, innovative ways! EVE OL have been completely beyond World of Warcraft regardless the number of players or game quality, , if you say it is "World of Warcraft killer", then it should be able to well-deserved!

Star Wars OL

"Star Wars OL" was wearing the title of "sci-fi version of Warcraft" from the public. Since it is on the line last December, it has been pursued by a large number of players hotly, so that both the sales and popularity were once beyond World of Warcraft. But just three months later, the number of players also plummeted because of the lack of content; the feeling is not strong, ultra-BUG shortcomings.

RIFT

Space-Time RIFT is a large 3D fantasy online game developed by Trion Worlds, and it was widely praised by the industry as its dynamic world events, a variety of professional orientation, the grand game of visual performance, solid game structure and game content! This game has a strong shadow of Warcraft no matter from the figure vocational or scene changes, although the game had won many awards, but the "shadow" still cannot get some players'™ disagreement.

Lord of the Rings OL

As a Middle Earth Magic theme games, "The Lord of the Rings OL" are indeed able to compare with "World of Warcraft" in some ways, such as the game's plot, scenes, etc; but that once dumb fire in front of the "Warcraft" for lack a unique connotation, and this connotation is - domineering.

"Aion"

"Aion" is a new generation of fantasy theme games produced carefully by the first South Korean online game giant NCsoft. But the game cannot match the "World of Warcraft" in vocational personality, scenes, a copy of the task and the setting and playability, so this for a number of players has not been greatly improved.

GW 2

Support diversification is one of the biggest feature of GW2 which were praised and loved by many players since it was launched in 2006. the game's producer were Patrick Wyatt, Mike, and Jeff Strain who had participated in Diablo and other works, and the strength of the GW 2 was similar to

World of Warcraft.
