Banking sector emerged as one of the largest recruiter's this season. Despite the recent slowdown research clearly shows that banking is one of the few sectors to be adequately capitalised and regulated. A career in the Banking and Financial Services Sector is one which offers one a combination of challenges, growth and compensation. This has prompted several top B-schools of India to come with specialised courses dedicated to understanding the banking sector. Symbiosis School Of Banking Management is also one such initiative under the prestigious Symbiosis International University. Located in Pune; SSBM is a recent venture by Symbiosis aimed at helping students study management with regards to the banking industry.

Pune has several institutes that offer a post graduate level course to students in finance, banking and related sectors. In fact the Symbiosis MBA in Finance is an extremely popular course. However not many institutes in Pune provide options when it comes to studying banking. With its flagship course being MBA in Banking Management; the environment at SSBM encourages students to innovate, manage and take on challenges in the dynamic banking industry. The banking sector's performance is directly linked to the economy's performance. A course in banking management in Pune helps the students get an opportunity to learn in one of the fastest growing cities of the country. Given the recent economic challenges; the banking sector also has had a fair share of ups and downs. It is in these situations that the banking industry realised the crunch of well trained professionals. Schools like Symbiosis Banking Management are committed to bridging this gap.

Located on the outskirts of Pune in the lovely locales of Lavale; SSBM successfully provides its students with a conducive learning environment. The prerequisite for admission to SSBM is SNAP test. Apart from the test; students need to register separately for SSBM. They are further called for a personal interview and group discussion based on their SNAP score. The routine of a student at SSBM Pune is a careful blend of academics and co curricular activities. It is this multi-faceted approach that equips the students of SSBM in facing the day to day challenges in the life of a banking manager.

Guided by highly qualified faculty; students at SSBM also benefit from the institutes multiple tie ups and MOU's. Its association with leading universities like the Berlin School of Economics & Law and Bremen University provides students an excellent opportunity to enhance their learning's across several platforms.

Being one of the top notch B schools dealing with banking management SSBM regularly facilitates industry interactions to encourage its students to learn more. There are also several events organised at the college to give the students first hand experiences of managing and executing. The events majorly deal with several aspects of the banking and finance sectors to give students a better understanding of the industry.

The Symbiosis School of Banking Management is a recent venture yet the placement season saw several big companies come to the campus for recruitments.

The recent placement season at SSBM has been successful and satisfying as it fulfilled the career aspirations of the batch that passed out. The carefully planned approach at SSBM has ensured its students get good packages in spite of the recession. Under the guidance of Dr. Bhama Venkatramani, the objective of SSBM is to provide the banking and financial services sector with well trained and industry ready professionals. Constantly striving to achieve greater goals; SSBM has to its credit several success stories. Given its dedication the institute; SSBM is all set to achieve greater heights year after year.
