Our Teachers at Exam Confidence by Richard Riddell

Article published on December 3rd 2011 | Education

We are very lucky to have attracted an exceptionally high calibre of teaching staff to facilitate your learning on our revision courses in either London or in West Sussex. Not only will you receive tutelage from chief and principal examiners, but you will also cover key syllabus topics with expert and passionate teachers. The revision courses are exam board specific so if you are looking for an aqa revision course or indeed an Edexcel or OCR revision course then look no further!

Teachers such as David, popular Head of Sixth Form at his well-respected independent school and an exceptional Chemistry teacher; Mark is one of our Business Studies teachers and is both Head of Department at his school and a published author who is keen to "make it real" with bringing entertaining examples from the everyday into making Business Studies memorable. Both Mark and David will lead the chemistry revision and the business studies as revision course and the business studies a2 revision course. David is running both the Seaford College course as well as the a2 revision course London.

If you choose to take one of our Physics revision course in London, you are likely to meet our high-achieving teacher, Anant. With a degree in Pharmaceutical Science, a Masters in Biomedical Engineering and part-way through his PhD in Physics, he teaches undergraduate students at Imperial College as well as A-Level students privately and with local Sixth Form colleges - achieving exceptional results with his tuition. We have no doubt that when you sign up to the Physics revision course you will achieve outstanding grades that your peers will be jealous of!

For the French revision course, you will probably have the pleasure and enthusiasm of being taught by Joanne, whose achievements include graduating from St John's College Cambridge for her first degree and with a Masters in French Literature from UCL. She has taught Literature in Paris for two years at the Sorbonne University and for several years has privately taught A Level French for Oxbridge candidates. The French revision course will focus on your individual and specific needs, so if there is a particular topic that you would like covered then we will ensure that it is!

Pippa is another of our brilliant Chemistry teachers and leads the chemistry revision course. She is deputy Head of Department for Science at a very large college that and is hugely enthusiastic "no one fails to be engaged with Pippa during the Chemistry revision. She has taught successfully since 1995, bringing student-friendly technology to supporting Chemistry homework and she is also a keen runner" keep an eye out for her in the London Marathon next year!

These are just a handful of profiles for a handful of subjects. Feel welcome to ask us about the profiles of the teachers you'll be having in your revision course. Remember that our exam revision courses are specific to the exam board, so if you are sitting an AQA revision course with us then you can rest assured that the focus will be on your particular exam board, and we know you'll be as impressed as we are proud to have them in our team.

Remember that exam confidence we offer a wide variety of a2 revision course in London and at Seaford College. These include; chemistry revision, physics revision & biology revision, French as revision, French a2 revision, maths revision, economics revision, both an economics as revision course and an a2 class.
