As the emerging business market shows exponential growth so is the requirement of project management professionals, who are instrumental in taking projects from inception to completion. What helps these professional to achieve the daunting task is some of the project management training programs. By and large, according to preference, following are few of the top ranking certified project management programs.

Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification

PMP certification is one of the most sought after and intensive certification available today. This is offered by Project Management Institute (PMI). It demonstrates advance knowledge and experience with project management concepts. As it is very high in demand, equally it is also one of the most difficult and obscure certifications.

PMP is designed to increase the project management skills of aspiring and on-job project managers. PMI's Project Management Professional (PMP) credential is the most important industry-recognized certification for project managers. It demonstrates that you have the experience, education and competency to successfully lead and direct projects. PMP is the most respected project management certification globally. It increases your competitiveness in the job market, thereby expanding your job opportunities. A lot of companies specifically look for PMP certified professionals and some even have it as selection criteria for management roles.

PRINCE2 (PProjects IN Controlled Environments)

PRINCE2 (PProjects IN Controlled Environments) is a process-based method for effective project management. It is a de facto standard used extensively by the UK Government and is widely recognised and used in the private sector, both in the UK and internationally.

Certified Project Manager (CPM)

The International Association of Project & Program Management (IAPMM) offers the CPM certification. CPM is a generalist certification that really complements existing project certifications such as the PMP and PRINCE2 credentials. The CPM also bridge and compliment those areas that makes a winning project or program manager.

Advanced Project Management Certification (APMC)

APMC is for experienced project managers and senior level managers, who want to build on expertise, acquire new skills and go beyond PMP accreditation. It comprised of required courses as well as electives, which lets you choose the project management courses that fit your needs, interests and schedule. It is offered by International Institute for Learning (IIL).

PME, CIPM, & MPM - Project Management Certifications from AAPM

The American Academy of Project Managers (AAPM) offers three levels of project management certification: Project Manager E-Business (PME), Certified International Project Manager (CIPM) and Master Project Manager (MPM). Each of these is targeted towards managers and executives and it requires graduate degrees and a high level of experience.
