

Article Side

Bridging Loans Generally Used when You Need Quick Money by Linda John

Article published on December 16th 2011 | Loans

There are several types of bridging loans available and the main reasons you might need one for when there is a property to buy, but where has not yet been completed in your current home and therefore need to find financial resources to fund this. If you decided to buy a property at auction, then it is possible that the bridge financing would be useful for you. Loans are available to purchase commercial, residential or land and financing are available as open or closed, depending on if you set a return date or not.

Bridge loans, as its name suggests, helps create a bridge between two transactions. But this type of loan is very capable of meeting the financial needs of a developer held by first charge or credit account seconds. Closed loans have a fixed date by which loans must be repaid in full. To be less risky for the lender that comes with low interest rates. But, an open class means a loan that is not bound by the terms of the fixed. This type of loan is meant a greater risk for the lender and therefore has higher interest rates.

The amount you can borrow can vary drastically, depending on your needs and the company or broker or Finance bridging loan lenders you choose to go with. If you are wondering how a bridge loan does, then you'll be interested to know that the loan is secured on either property or land and in the main you can borrow a percentage of the value of the property market.

Before the credit crisis, you may be able to borrow up to 100% of market value if you have other properties that can be used as a form of security for the loan you are taking. However, the amount you can borrow hat now going to be much less.

You will also find that What is Bridging Loan and how it is more costly than other types of loans, since there is more threat for the lender and owing to high interest rates and various fees. Bridging loans are relatively easy to organize, it can be completed online and can be arranged quickly and often with little documentation. Bridge financing on a property auction can be organized in the days and the decision is often made within hours of doing the initial research.

Residential bridge financing is very useful when you want to buy a new property, but your finances are tied for existing property and is not over yet. A residential bridge loan can also be used to repay debt, purchase new investment property and to finance home improvements. Bridge loans for renovation are also very useful in a situation where the main street lender cannot lend on a property, because it is uninhabitable.

If you have a commercial property and you require some recourse like quick funds and then commercial bridging finance could be a solution for you. It is especially useful if you want to turn a commercial property in residential apartments, this type of loan will be able to provide the funds for renovation. It can also be used to release equity debt consolidation, business injection of cash flow and improving the construction or purchase of more new properties.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/loans-articles/bridging-loans-generally-used-when-you-need-quick-money.htm> - Article Side

Linda John - About Author:

Ever having question like a What is a Bridging Loan then read articles of Linda and get all answer related a Finance Bridging and Bridging Loans and know that how Bridging Loan Lenders can help you. For more information visit at: mybridgingfinance.co.uk

Article Keywords:

Finance Bridging, What is Bridging Loan, What is a Bridging Loan, Bridging Loan Lenders

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!