Understanding what makes a good business loan, what is most suitable for your situation, as well as what the key factors are for being in a good fundable position are important to qualify for the best financing program available. For many business owners and entrepreneurs, getting help from the people who know the industry best can make the difference between the right business financing and rejection or an unfavorable loan.

Direct Business Lending has a team of experienced loan consultants to help any business be better positioned for funding and find the right type of loan. Recently, DBLâ€™s executive funding team has been reorganized with the addition of two loan experts providing more knowledge and resources to get businesses paired with the right loan product. Jason Downey joins the team as the owner and CEO of JT Consulting. Over the years he has helped many businesses receive funding ranging from $100,000 to $100,000,000. Clients that have worked with Jason in the past commend him for his expertise and knowledge on debt and equity as well as his creativity and integrity. He actively supports several organizations promoting financial soundness and alternative investments and has authored a book on real estate. The other newest team member, Terry May, also co-owns JT Consulting. Terry brings in years of active involvement in finance, sales, and marketing. He has closed just about any type of loan and has the passion to help others reach their goals. Terry works to build a solid working relationship with clients and shares his experience and expertise. Terryâ€™s commitment stands not only as a family man but extends to those who want to expand their life personally and financially.

Together, Jason Downey and Terry May, the Money Guys on the East Coast, bring in a combined total of more than 45 years of commercial loan closing ability to DBL and their clients. They and other loan experts at Direct Business Lending can be every businessâ€™ strategic partner. With a personal loan consultant, business owners and entrepreneurs can trust DBL to assess their needs and predicament properly and find the business loan program that will fit them best. The company also has a wide network of business lenders to match every borrowerâ€™s needs. With these resources, the right funding is always possible, even in the most difficult situations.

Jantzen Fugate, CEO of Direct Business Lending, said, "Terry May and Jason Downey are adding an incredible amount of experience to the Executive Funding Team. Their knowledge of what it takes to get a business owners approved will be an amazing asset to our clients. We are very excited about this partnership."
