Houseboats on Murray River Experience Pristine Accommodations by Julia Roger

Article published on May 12th 2012 | Recreation

Murray River houseboats are extremely popular among tourists. People visiting the Southern part of Australia normally prefer to enjoy at least a couple of days stay at the houseboat facilities available within the Murray River. It is a wonderful experience to aim for. There is fun, excitement, and innovation in the concept. The wooden decks of houseboats create an enigmatic environment during the dark after-dark hours. Staying in houseboats always offer for a unique experience that is so much different from those usual hotel accommodation facilities.

When planning for murray river houseboat hire, it is necessary to collect proper information. Houseboats are mainly available in two major types. The most common are those that remain constant at the shores of the river and never move at all. Then, there is the type which moves from the shores and becomes constant at a mid-point region of the river or even keeps moving at a slow pace to make for a fantastic swinging experience. Echuca houseboats are quite popular among international tourists. Hiring charges for Houseboats are quite expensive. However, the experience is simply awesome. Sometimes, a hefty price needs to be paid in order to experience the quality things in life. There are several deluxe houseboat accommodation facilities available in Moama and Goolwa River also. If you head further up the side of Murray River towards Victoria, then movable houseboats can be availed.

In not only Australia, the concept of houseboat is extremely popular (in India for example). Places like Kashmir, Shimla, and Kerala also feature luxurious houseboats for accommodation purpose. People often find it not safe enough to avail such accommodation facilities. However, there is no such danger or risk associated with these accommodation facilities. Every year, there are hundreds of tourists who opt for such accommodation facilities while visiting Southern Australia.
