Joomla Templates are free open source content management system to manage the website content with a simple easy to use and extensible functional interface. This means that you do not need any special programming skills to create a site using Joomla to our theme. Joomla has the HTML and CSS, making your website error free by the rules of W3C.

Template specializing in Joomla hosting services. The company provides optimized Joomla Web servers, free Joomla 1.0 and 1.5 and their location, an expert Template Joomla, Joomla Template guidelines and templates, Joomla templates, FAQ and forum. If you want to switch to SiteGround expert hosting services, the company will transfer files from the site for free, which is also fast and customize the appearance. Since Joomla is based on PHP and MySQL, you need to create powerful applications on any platform can use the open, sharing and support.

On our site you will find more than 700 templates, Joomla, high quality, which is produced daily. Joomla template designed for easy installation and setup, even if you're not an experienced designer & developer. Many web hosting services offer one-click install, getting a new site in minutes. On the Joomla Templates are so simple to use as a web designer or developer, you can quickly create websites for their clients. Then, with a minimum number of commands, you can extend your customers easily manage their own sites themselves.

On the compatibility of the template to help in the latest versions of Web browsers. At the time of writing this typically includes the following browsers: Internet Explorer 7/8, Firefox, Opera, Safari and Google Chrome. In statistics, Net Applications show that over 40% of all visitors will not use Internet Explorer!

Professional Joomla Themes designed includes a balanced color palette that matches the mood and style of the template. A good contrast is also very important because it not only separates the beautiful from the ugly picture, but also ensures that visual impairment, users can browse the site, as well as non-users with impaired vision will be. Source code can be smaller (if any) legacy code or syntax errors (for example, by using brackets with "if" statements, rather than using PHP closing tag, etc.). What comments would be nice if you plan to modify the source code of their own. Availability of clean and efficient source code will take less time to process on the server is less than querying the database and security of user input correctly and quickly.

If the web designers want to update the appropriate level of security than is necessary to actively support the product, most likely, updates are available for a short period of time, which prevents problems or closes a security hole that allowed the feat. Again, new capabilities, such as Google Font, CSS3 and HTML5 slowly surfacing. Using the latest technology will make your template more interactive and stylish on supported browsers, degrades gracefully in older browsers. Continues to release updates to their templates, developers do not care about breaking the code and eliminate the problems associated with new versions of browsers and programming languages.

Templates Power have the keywords above in your source code is said to improve your ranking for that keyword (SEO). Correctly identify and name tags are ordered as important for visually impaired users to view the site with screen readers. We have our own override templates for page layout without tables. Fortunately, Joomla 1.6 does not use tables for layout more, which will provide a more accurate CSS-style Joomla! Web sites on the Internet.
