Article published on February 7th 2012 | Technology

Satellite phone are quite expensive if you want to buy it as the average price of it is around $ 1,500. This is why most people find it convenient to rent one of these. satellite phone rental is a good option when you need it for a short period of time. The best way to make a decision is calculate for how you will be requiring the phone and what charges you will be paying for the rent and the call. If you feel that buying the phone will be a better option as you may likely use it in future, then decide as per your need.

The average rent of satellite phone is

1-7 days $ 69 (approx.)

8-14 days $129

15-35days $249

36-42 days $319

After satellite phone rental you will also require prepaid calling times. The recharges are available in various amounts so you can conveniently get one that will suit you the most. To make calls you must have balance but in case you run out of credit balance, you will only receive call and will not be able to make one. If you have unused recharge voucher you can return them or use it for your next trip. The pre paid satellite vouchers expire in 12 months so check out the expiry details properly before you buy them.

There are various reasons as to why you can buy a satellite phone

They are light weight compact digital phone that can be used anywhere in the world

High define digital clarity

Excellent coverage all over the world

Easy to use and the customer service is available round the clock.

Some of the top satellite phones that can be rent are

Iridium phones

Global star phones

Inmarsat phones

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/technology-articles/satellite-phone-rental-a-discussion.htm - Article Side

James Blee - About Author:

For more information on a satellite phone rental, check out the info available online; these will help you learn to find the a satellite phone rentals!

Article Keywords:
satellite phone rental,satellite phone rentals

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!